

----

Ambassador Seyed Hossein Rezvani is a career Diplomat and has served in different senior positions at the MFA, as well as Embassies and Diplomatic Missions of the Islamic Republic of Iran abroad. He served as Ambassador of the IR of Iran to the Kingdom of Norway and concurrently Iran's Accredited Ambassador to the Republic of Iceland (2010-13). Upon return to Iran, he became Senior Expert for International Human Rights Studies and Fellow Researcher at the Institute for Political and International Studies (IPIS), affiliated with the MFA. Retiring from MFA in February 2019, Ambassador Rezvani joined the Strategic Council on Foreign Relations (SCFR), where he is presently functioning as Fellow Researcher in Cultural and Human Rights domain.

Academic achievement, He received his PhD in Public International Law with Human Rights focus at Islamic Azad University North Tehran branch in 2020. He Graduated with MA Degree from La Salle University (Pennsylvania) in Professional Communication and Public Relations In 2005. He acquired his BA Degree in Political Science from Western Michigan University in 1979.

Publications, Having served as a member of Reviewer's Panel of the Journal of Foreign Policy (Vol. 32, No. 5, summer 2018), Amb. Rezvani has written numerous articles on different aspects of International Human Rights Law, principals, norms and standards, Cultural Diversity vs. Universality of Human Rights, challenges of promotion and protection of Human Rights at the United Nations, such as politicization and abuse of the UN Human Rights bodies and their various mechanisms, mandates and procedures.

He is married and currently resides in Tehran, Iran. Amb. Rezvani can be contacted at (Hossein_rezvani@yahoo.com).

*****